

Objection Handling One-Pager

Chapter 10 · Stage 4 — Close

Write your own answers. The objections and their meanings are real; the words have to be yours.

THE THREE MOVES

1. Acknowledge it as reasonable. Not "I understand, but."
2. Ask one question to find out which of three it is: doesn't believe it works / doesn't believe it works for him / timing is genuinely wrong.
3. Answer the actual version. Short. Then return to the decision.

THE TWELVE

#	WHAT THEY SAY	WHAT IT USUALLY MEANS	SHAPE OF THE ANSWER
1	"Too expensive"	Return problem, not budget	Go back to his numbers — job value × close rate
2	"I already have a guy"	Often barely active	Ask what the guy does and what results look like
3	"Tried an agency, didn't work"	Real damage. Most common, most winnable	Ask exactly what happened. Never attack the last guy
4	"Too busy right now"	Slammed, or a soft no	Ask when the season turns. Book before their slow stretch
5	"All my work is referrals"	True, and flat	Ask what happens in a slow month
6	"Let me think about it"	An objection you never surfaced	Ask what specifically he wants to think through
7	"Let me talk to my wife/partner"	Should have found this at minute 15	Book the next call with both on it
8	"How do I know you can do this?"	Belief problem. Fair	Specificity beats credentials. Walk the mechanism
9	"Can you guarantee results?"	Wants risk removed	Never guarantee income. Commit to a service level
10	"Just send me info"	Polite exit, 9 times in 10	Agree — and book the time to discuss it before hanging up
11	"I don't need more customers"	Doesn't need more of these customers	Ask which jobs he actually wants
12	"You're young"	Rarely said, often thought	Be the most specific person in the room

TALLY SHEET

Mark every objection that comes up. After twenty calls, whatever's at the top is something to fix upstream — in your outreach, qualifying, or framing — not something to keep handling on calls.
