Chapter 14 · Stage 6 — Proof

What to track, how to calculate it, and what it tells you. No target ranges — the only benchmark worth anything is your own last period.

YOUR BUSINESS

METRIC	FORMULA	WHAT IT TELLS YOU	CHAPTER
Attempts	Count of outbound touches	Whether you're doing the work	2
Reply rate	Replies ÷ attempts	Message and targeting quality	2
Conversation rate	Convos ÷ attempts	Whether the interest is real	2
Stage conversion	Stage N+1 ÷ Stage N	Exactly where the funnel breaks	7
Show rate (your calls)	Calls held ÷ calls booked	Gap between booking and the call	9

Cost per shown appointment	Total cost ÷ shown	The cleanest measure of the program	14
Jobs won	Client-reported	The bridge to what he cares about	14
Usage churn signal	Days since last login	Leading indicator of cancellation	15

WHY NO TARGETS

A benchmark from someone else's market is worse than no benchmark. A reply rate that's poor in one vertical is excellent in another, and a reader who quits at 6% because a book said 12% has been actively misled.

Measure your own for 30 days. That's your baseline. Then beat it.

THE THREE THAT MATTER MOST

1. Days to first booked appointment — predicts retention
2. Stage-to-stage conversion — tells you what to fix
3. Referrals per client — tells you whether the business compounds
